Dan Moody Files Suit to Cancel Contracts For Road Surfacing

UNCERTAIN CONTRACTS WITH UNREASONABLE AND EXCESSIVE
PRICES ARE ALLEGED IN SUIT

Austin, Nov. 12—(AP)—Charging excessive and unreasonable prices and uncertain contracts, Attorney General Dan Moody today filed suit seeking cancellation of surfacing contracts in Galveston and Harris counties held by the Sherman and Youmans Construction Company of Houston. The petition seeks recovery of $1,176.16, alleged overpayment on one estimate and to prevent payment of an estimate of $29,174.10, which, it alleges is $2,352.32 in excess of any amount which could be due.

The suit was filed in the Fifty-Third District Court of Travis County by Attorney General Moody. A temporary injunction restraining the company from receiving or disbursing funds and the recovery of approximately $20,000 is asked.

Right of the attorney general to file suit against the American Road Company, without request from the state highway department, is questioned by Governor Miriam Ferguson. In a letter today to Chairman Frank V. Lanham of the highway commission, she instructed him to take every step toward contesting such right of the attorney general.

Injunction Case Revoked
Galveston, Nov. 12—(AP)—The first court of civil appeals handed down a decision today rescinding and revoking the Harris County highway injunction case, in which cancellation of the Sherman and Youmans' maintenance contract was sought. The court held that only the state could sue for cancellation.

The opinion was written by Chief Justice Pleasants. An injunction can be granted to restrain the payment of any amount not earned under the terms of the contract between the highway commission and Sherman and Youmans, the court held, and tax payers and citizens can maintain such a suit. Cancellation may be sought only by the state, the opinion further held, also holding that the state is not a party to the suit.

An injunction had been granted by the Harris County District Court restraining the payment of $74,000 to the company for maintenance work. The action was initiated by a Harris County commissioner and was supported by Attorney General Moody.

Beautiful Coffin
Is Removed From
Pharaoh's Tomb

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 12—(AP)—The inner coffin of Tut-Ankh-Amen's sarcophagus, containing the mummy, has been removed from the pharaoh's tomb to that of Seti II, nearby for examination. The coffin, which is of human shape, with a painted face believed to be representing the face of the young king himself, is one of the most beautiful pieces of work discovered by the Egyptologists.

The mummy, however, was found to be adhering to the sarcophagus, owing to the liquids poured over it in the ceremonies whereby the pharaoh was dedicated as a god.

All those present at the removal of the sarcophagus from the tomb were greatly impressed with the richness and majesty of the art lavished upon it by the ancient artisans. Several days of extremely careful work will be required to detach the mummy safely from the adhering shell.

The telegram was in answer to two messages sent to President Coolidge asking that the Colonel be permitted to come to New York for the reunion.

A telegram from Colonel Mitchell saying that he could not be the honor guest was cheered. The post telegraphed President Coolidge that it was understood unequivocally that Colonel Mitchell's position before his court martial.

STATES LETTER FROM OFFICIAL WAS AN INSULT

Mrs. Landsdowne Says Statement That She Had Every Confidence in Board and Was Willing to Leave Investigation to Conference, False.

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—Called to substantiate Colonel Mitchell's charge that improper attempts had been made to influence her testimony before the Shenandoah board of inquiry, Mrs. Zachary Landsdowne, widow of the dirigible's commander, testified in the Mitchell court martial today that Captain Paul Foley of the naval board, had sent her a letter which was "an insult" to the memory of her husband.

The witness said she could not produce the letter because she had destroyed it after it had been delivered to her by Mrs. George W. Steele Jr., wife of Captain Steele of the navy, who is commander of the Lakehurst air station and of the dirigible Los Angeles.

Over objections by the prosecution she testified that in the communication, Foley, who as judge advocate of the board of inquiry, said she (Mrs. Landsdowne) had every confidence in the board and was willing to leave the investigation to it as a competent authority. This statement of her attitude she described as "false."

Defense counsel then read extracts from Mrs. Landsdowne's testimony before the board, but the prosecution objected and was supported by the court.

The defense then introduced copies of the letters exchanged between Captain Landsdowne and the navy department relating to plans for the Shenandoah's last flight.

"Did Captain Foley come to see you before you testified?" Representative Reid asked.

"He did."

"When did you testify?"

"October 9th."

Colonel Sherman Moreland, the prosecutor, then took over the examination.

"Did Captain Gharadi, aide to Secretary Wilbur, visit you at Lakehurst on or about September 4th?" he asked.

"He did."

Mrs. Landsdowne continued that she did not tell Captain Gharadi that the things she "had said to the newspapers about the Shenandoah were lies."

"I denied to Captain Gharadi," she said, "that I had said that the secretary of the navy personally was the murderer of my husband. That is all I denied."

Mrs. Landsdowne further testified that the letter, Captain Foley sent her suggested that she state her willingness to waive legal defense on behalf of her husband, and authorize the naval court to act for him.

TEXAS TURKEY CROP WILL

Slaying Was Act
Of Kindness, Man
Arrested States

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—Because the victim asked him to do it as a favor, Joseph A. Pickard, 25, told the police he shot and killed Joseph F. Stein, 45, here last night as a quietly arranged act of kindness.

"I did it, because I hated to see him live when he wanted to die," was Pickard's plea when he was held on a murder charge after confessing that he had shot Stein at his room in the basement of a hospital where they both were working as window washers.

"I tried to kill Stein Tuesday night," he asserted further, "but the revolver, I had, failed to discharge. I traded this revolver yesterday for a 45 calibre revolver. Then we went to Stein's room. He bowed his head and I placed the revolver against it and fired."

Pickard said Stein wanted to die because he had "wrecked his life," but other employees at the hospital said there had been ill-feeling between the two men because Pickard had made accusations against Stein's character.

Pickard's story to police is "that after failing several months ago to obtain a passport for a trip to Europe, Stein became morose." He wanted to kill himself, Stein is reported as saying, "but he didn't have the nerve and asked me to do it."

Boston Armistice Day Parade Ends In Disturbance

Boston, Nov. 12—(AP)—The storm which broke over the Armistice day parade continued to rage today over charges Masons made that Hammond T. Fletcher, chief marshal, was a "common faker and impostor."

Clarence M. Dunbar, eminent grand commander of the Knights Templar, has been summoned from Providence to investigate Fletcher's status.

Fletcher, who represented himself to be a "past grand master of the Knights Templar," was a resplendent figure as he led the parade in a uniform which, Masonic officials claim, was a mixture of Knights Templar, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows regalia.

As the chief marshal was about to take his place at head of the parade, W. L. Terhune, head of the Square and Compass Club, the Masonic Club of Boston, challenged his right to masonry. Fletcher avoided the challenge by ordering the parade to start.

In a statement today, Mr. Terhune said:

"When I learned that certain societies which were unpatriotic in the war were going to march in the Armistice day parade, I declined to have my organization participate. I was astounded when I learned that this man Fletcher was to be chief marshal and that he claimed to be a past grand master of the Knights Templar. Knowing him to be a fraud, I challenged his right to masonry. The parade resulted in a disturbance on the streets, when members of the American Legion and other veterans' organizations attempted to disrupt a meeting which followed the procession. Surrounded by police, the veterans charged up a nearby slope to a German howitzer, captured by a Yankee division in the Argentine, where they met and adopted resolutions branding the parade as an "unforgettable insult" and those in charge of it "peace-at-any-price fanatics."

The disturbance started when Dr. Francis Von Oy, German war veteran and a Harvard graduate student, was introduced as a speaker at the "peace meeting." His appearance on the platform was followed by the jeers of the veterans.

The place cards and nut baskets conveyed the thought of Thanksgiving and the delicious four course luncheon carried out still further the idea, for the piece de resistance was turkey.

After luncheon, two tables of guests played spirited games of forty-two. The following were guests: Mrs. J. R. Plummer, Mrs. L. G. Hawkins, Mrs. C. S. McCulloch, Mrs. J. L. Swartwood, Mrs. W. O. Anderson, Mrs. W. R. Lane, Mrs. W. H. Higgins, Mrs. T. P. Lisman, Mrs. W. D. Berry.

MRS. W. D. BERRY ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF MRS. PLUMMER

Among the many delightful affairs given in honor of Mrs. J. R. Plummer of Long Beach, Calif., house guest of Mrs. L. G. Hawkins, is numbered the reminiscent party at the home of Mrs. W. D. Berry of Texas street, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Berry was assisted in receiving and entertaining by Mrs. Keith Berry. The diversion of the afternoon was progressive conversation and the guests were given topics to discuss, as: "Describe Your First Sweetheart," "How to Tell a Woman's Age," "What Makes a Beautiful Woman," "Ma Ferguson," "First Impressions of Vernon," "Dust Storms," "Good Things About Your Neighbor," "Your Favorite Flower," "Your Favorite Pastime," closing with the "Sweetest Thing in Life," which all conceded was love. Mrs. C. J. Farrell, Mrs. W. N. Stokes and Mrs. J. B. Morris acted as judges as to whom should receive the prize, for conversational ability and to Mrs. Plummer went the arm bouquet of beautiful pink chrysanthemums.

The flowers were presented Mrs. Plummer by Mrs. Farrell, who paid the guest a pretty compliment by saying that in the game of life, the honoree had learned the secret of keeping young, and must have drunk at the fabled fountain of Ponce De Leon. In a speech of acceptance, Mrs. Plummer told how much she associated meeting old friends again after years spent in California and just what it meant to relive the days of long ago in Vernon, the City Beautiful.

A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room and Mrs. Plummer and the hostess' mother, Mrs. W. C. Johnson, led the way to the dining room where a dainty buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. S. W. Bailey and Mrs. Howard Reger presided at the tea table.

"THAT FOOLISH MAN"

A "Crazy Fool" 'tis Said by Some Who Talk Funny!

Down to the bottom of the well they would put him. There to drown or kick about with the frogs in the dark bottom.

Wouldn't it be awful if they did? Do you cry just to have the thought? Do you laugh because you think 'tis nonsense? It ain't no laughing business for the poor "simp" for he don't like living in a deep well with frogs. He loves sunshine and air just like real smart guys. He likes to be the "crazy fool" if it takes that kind of a name to sell food Cheaper and Cheaper. He just says "Cheaper and Cheaper" and the whole bunch of croakers and opposite guys get sicker and sicker.

The "Sole Owner" fellow is the "nut" they talk about. He is going to be here in Vernon to make prices Cheaper and Cheaper. You are going to be happy at the same time. All of us are going to have a grand jubilee right here in Vernon with bands of music and a flower for each one Free.

Saturday is the day for this grand time for Vernon. "Sole Owner" has prepared for you a beautiful new "Sole Owner" Store.

"Sole Owner" himself is writing this talk to you so you can be sure that what he says is right. Vernon folks are just as important as city folks like Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Waco and other large places throughout the country that swelled up because they are big. That's what "Sole Owner" thinks and, to prove it here he is in Vernon just like he is in the big cities.

Today I stand without the door of my Piggly Wiggly business. In my effort to save it from the stock gambler of Wall Street I finally lost my entire fortune—not through Wall Street but through the treachery of my business associates in Piggly Wiggly at Memphis—the ones that now control that business. Today I have my new "Sole Owner" Stores operating in 56 Cities and Towns inclusive of Vernon.

In this new business I have turned my back on the past. I now look forward to every day of the future as worth my whole energy and talent.

There have been many hindrances put in my way toward a new success by the Piggly Wiggly crowd. I was even enjoined by Court Order at the instance of Piggly Wiggly from using my own name in my new business. This contest I finally won in the courts at much expense.

Much other litigation by Piggly Wiggly has daily beset me in my effort to start a new business. But these things are the price that all of us have to pay when we succeed, so I smile while I hurt and keep on smiling. At the same time I work harder and harder.

These new "Sole Owner" Stores are too pretty to tell about. Those eyes of yours must look inside to know the beauty. They are too white and clean for these words to make as white and clean as they really are. They are too convenient to tell you about as well as you will understand when you come to see.

Not a single turnstile in the entire store. Every part of the store is free and open for you to walk where you please. No place for you to get hemmed in a corner. Never before in your life have you felt as good in a store as you will feel when you walk inside this "Sole Owner" Store.

I Will Be Happy for You to Come and You Will Be Happy That You Came!

The Anti-Saloon League officials who declared the other day that enforcement of the Volstead law must come through home rule, if it is ever to come effectively, called attention to the great weakness of the present system of enforcement of the prohibition laws.

It is manifestly impossible for the Federal government to effectively enforce a law which is capable of being violated at so many different places at the same time. Many hailed with the delight the prospect of the Federal government taking over the enforcement of prohibition. They pointed to the effective enforcement of the few Federal laws that related to ordinary police power as a sign that we should have rigid enforcement by the general government. But the successes of the Federal police power were recorded against smuggling, narcotics and distilling in the pre-Volstead days when there was not so much incentive to violate the laws regulating the manufacture and sale of liquor.

Under such a system it was possible for the Federal government to concentrate its police forces at points where violations of the general laws would be expected to take place. But now, when every little neighborhood has its distillers and brewers and where the temptation of huge profits from the sale of liquor has lured many into the business who would never have thought of it in the old days, the problem becomes so complex that it is physically impossible for the Federal government to cope with it.

To do so would call for the duplication by the Federal government of all local police officers. Then we would have one set of officers to enforce prohibition and another to enforce other laws. To attempt such a duplication would cause the cost of prohibition enforcement to mount such levels that, even America, with her wealth, could not stand it.

But there is no occasion for having two sets of officers. The states, counties and cities have the forces already organized for adequate enforcement, once we get the notion that it is the business of the states, counties and cities to enforce the prohibition laws. The failures of prohibition enforcement have resulted from a disposition on the part of most of the people to allow the Federal government to do it. If we are to succeed in coping with the liquor evils the old principle of home rule must be raised. America must get back to first principles of democracy and recognize that law enforcement, to be effective, must be a local affair.

THE TASK OF VERNON'S TEAM

The Wichita Falls high school team defeated the Electra team yesterday in the new playoff series, made necessary by the ineligibility of players on Electra, Wichita and Vernon teams. The Vernon team will enter the game at Wichita Falls Monday a favorite to win, but this doesn't mean that the local players will have any easy time of it.

Advance dope and opinions of critics do not win football games. If Vernon wins it will be because her men outgitted the Wichita Falls men. There are too many grades between the two teams to make possible anything but a real fight. Wichita Falls cannot be counted out.

Vernon people who witnessed the game between Electra and Wichita Falls Wednesday agree that unless Wichita Falls puts up a better exhibition of gridiron work next Monday, Vernon should have easy sailing. But it is more than likely that Wichita Falls will put up a better game. Wichita Falls had nothing beat Vernon than any other team in Texas. The reverse is also true.

One thing that the Vernon men must realize is that they will face a foe worthy of their best efforts. Over-confidence can easily result in defeat. It has resulted in the defeat of better teams than Vernon by relatively weaker adversaries than Wichita Falls.

Two things will help Vernon to a decision next Monday—a fighting determination on the part of the team and the backing and support of Vernon citizens in the grandstand. Every citizen of Vernon who possibly can do so, ought to go to Wichita Falls next Monday and pull for the team to win. It is up to Vernon to repeat her triumph over Wichita Falls two weeks ago. She can do it if the team goes in with the right spirit and if the people of Vernon will be on hand to support and encourage the players.

On to Wichita should be the slogan of every loyal supporter of the Vernon Lions from now until Monday.

PROTECTING THE FOOLISH DRIVERS

Press dispatches inform us that the number of fatalities in automobile accidents is on the decrease. This may be due to a number of causes. Undoubtedly people as a whole are beginning to learn more about driving, although there is still a surprisingly large number who are willing to take any kind of a chance on the road. It may be that the decrease is not based on any cause at all, but is simply a natural fluctuation of figures that may be wholly overcome in the next monthly report.

There are measures being taken to promote safety on the highways that ought to result in a relative decrease in the number of accidents, but the rapid increase in the number of motor cars and the uses they are put to may be expected to keep the accident figures up to a high level in spite of all that can be done to remedy conditions.

One of the most prolific causes of automobile casualties is the railroad crossing accident. Almost every day we learn of some such accident that results in the death of from one to a dozen persons. This is the only sure way to reduce the number of accidents. It is too much to expect that it will ever be possible to do away with all grade crossings. The cost makes it prohibitive. It is possible, however, to do away with grade crossings on the most important arteries of travel and where accidents are most likely to occur.

Much progress has already been made in this direction. Only last week New York State voted a bond issue of $100,000,000 to be used in eliminating grade crossings. This is a move in the right direction and will result in the saving of many lives. Of course, it is possible for drivers of motor cars to eliminate grade crossing accidents by following the simple rule of stopping, looking and listening. But this is asking too much of just ordinary human beings. We must help Providence in looking after the foolish ones.

One of the earliest recollections of my childhood is the quaint, old-fashioned garden that my mother tended with such loving care.

I remember there were some sweet peas, some nasturtiums, a few larkspurs and a bed of mignonette whose fragrance comes back to me now.

Such memories are golden. Of such things character is formed. We carry them with us throughout the years, an anchor to windward in time of storm.

When skies are dark, and days are drear,
Flowers add a touch of gentle cheer.To look on them, so bright and fine,
Discouraged thought can scarce be mine.They seem to me a ray of hope
When I, perchance, in darkness grope.A symbol fine that I, while here,
May give to life a touch of cheer.That thought I'm here for just a while
I, too, may give to life a smile.C. D. WILLIAMSKimball and Baldwin Pianos

COYOTES BEAT TIGERS 12 TO 6

McCALLUM'S CREW RECOVERS ELECTRA'S FUMBLES TO GET SCORES

When the Wichita Falls Coyotes took advantage of several fumbles by Electra and scored two touchdowns early in the first quarter of the Electra-Wichita Falls game at Electra Wednesday, they did enough to defeat the Tigers and win the right to play Vernon next Monday. Although Electra came back in the second period and scored a touchdown, and attempted a desperate rally in the fourth period, the game ended with the score 12-6 in the Coyotes' favor.

Except for a few spectacular runs by Steed and Moore of Wichita Falls, the game was listless throughout the four periods, and was marred by fumbles of both teams. The Coyotes usually covered both their own and Electra's fumbles, and this was a deciding factor in the game. The Tigers pinned their offensive hopes on a single player throughout the game, although shifting from one man to another. In the first half, the Tigers depended wholly on Trammill to advance the ball, while in the final half Moore was selected to advance the oval practically every time. Wichita Falls displayed a slightly more versatile attack, with Steed and Moore alternating in carrying the ball. In the final quarter Powell, quarter, showed to good advantage. For the most part, the Coyotes used a straight running and punting attack. The Coyotes tried only four passes, completing one for a gain of twenty-five yards. One was intercepted. Electra attempted to gain by the aerial route nine times, and gained thirty-eight yards on one pass. Two were intercepted. Electra made only two first downs while the Coyotes earned nine. Fumbles early in the game probably broke the fighting spirit of the Tiger eleven. Trammill fumbled the kick-off, but recovered it, only to fumble again on the second play after making nine yards through the line. Moore recovered for Wichita Falls and ran the ball to Electra's 10-yard line, where he fumbled and Flippine of Wichita recovered. Four line bucks pushed the ball over. Moore going over for the touchdown. Ray missed goal. A few minutes later, Wright of Electra fumbled and Dobson recovered for Wichita Falls on Electra's 29-yard line. An exchange of punts gave Wichita Falls the ball on Electra's 38-yard line. Steed brushed right tackle for eleven yards, and Francis added nine on two off-tackle bucks. Moore made five off left tackle, and Francis brushed the other tackle for the same yardage. Steed, Moore and Francis added two yards each on line bucks, and Steed went around right end for three yards and the touchdown. Ray was tackled while trying to drop-kick goal. In the second quarter, Wichita Falls got away a bad punt, and it was Electra's ball on the Coyote's 28-yard line. Trammill made six yards at right tackle, and Wichita Falls was penalized five yards. Moore made three yards off left tackle, and Trammill added four in two bucks. Moore hit right tackle for three more, following with three through center. On the next play he went over on downs. Neither side threatened again.

COTTON.

New York.

New York, Nov. 12—Cotton futures opened easy. December 20.40; January 20.03; March 20.03; May 19.74; July 19.15.

The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 17 to 35 points, under selling promoted by talk of possible increased mill curtailment in Lancashire, rumors of disappointing private returns on domestic consumption for October and relatively easy Liverpool cables. January sold off to 19.95 under the initial pressure, about 35 points net lower, but the break was so necked by renewed buying and prices recovered most of their loss toward the end of the first hour. December was relatively firm, selling 8 points net higher, while later deliveries still showed net declines of about 8 to 12 points.

After the early rally to 20.19 for January, prices reacted to about the opening levels but firmed up again later in the morning on renewed covering. December was relatively steady, increasing its premiums over January to about fifty points, and the firmness of the near months probably helped to steady later deliveries. January was selling around 20.15 at midday when the general market was about four points higher to 15 points net lower.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Nov. 12—(AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. December 19.85; January 19.76; March 19.55; May 19.51; July 19.26.

The cotton market opened higher, first trades showing gains of 47 to 71 points mainly in restoration of the parity with New York, that markets having an advance of nearly 80 points yesterday, while the market here was closed. As Liverpool cables came in lower than due and New York opened down, the market here eased off again about 5 to 15 points up from right after the call. By the end of the first half hour prices had rallied the lows on the unfavorable weather in the interior. Trading was active.

The market ruled very steady all morning and prices traded as high as 70 to 76 points above Tuesday's last and five to six points above the opening highs. There was effort to force a decline by the circulation of unfounded rumors that a prominent private bureau estimated consumption during October under October last year, but after moderate dips the market rallied promptly. At noon prices were six to nine points below the morning highs.

Liverpool.

Liverpool, Nov. 12—(AP)—Cotton, spot steady. American strictly good middling 11.45; good middling 11.20; strictly low middling 11.00; middling 10.70; strictly low middling 10.30; low middling 10.05; strictly good ordinary 9.65; good ordinary 9.05; sales 7,000 bales, 4,400 American. Receipts 4,000 bales, 800 American.

GRAIN.

Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12—(AP)—Wheat scored early advances in price today owing chiefly to announcement that further amounts of wheat were being taken out of the meager stock in storage here and were being shipped away to mills. Opening prices, 3¢ off to 1 1/2¢, up, new style. December 1.50 1/2 to 1.51 and May 1.45 to 1.45 1/2 were followed by something of a setback all around, and then by material gains, December touching 1.52 and May 1.45 1/2.

Corn developed strength as a result of buying based on the fact that the government crop report was less bearish than many traders had looked for. After opening unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, December 75 1/2 to 75 1/2, the market continued an ascent that took December up to 76 1/2.

Oats were steadied by firmness of corn and wheat. Starting 1/2¢ lower to a shade higher, December 38 1/2, the market later showed a slight general advance.

Despite lower quotations on hogs, provisions were responsive to the upward swing in the corn market.

PRODUCE.

Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12—(AP)—Poultry, alive, firm; fowls 15 to 22¢; springs 22 1/2¢; turkeys 30¢; roosters 15¢; ducks 20 to 23¢; geese 19¢.

WIVES' PROBLEM IS BASIS OF PLAY HERE

The problem of wives who have ceased to be of any importance in their husbands' lives is faced in "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted," the Warner Bros. classic of the screen which comes to the Pictorium today, Thursday, for a two-day run. The story of Gertrude Wentworth James, hits the problem in one of its most conspicuous instances, that of the wife of an aspiring politician. In this case he is an ambitious district attorney who finds the demands of his office so great that he is compelled to ignore the demands of his home, and finally to cease to care about them. How home and politics are swept together into a web of adventurous intrigue makers for a thrilling, dramatic entertainment, according to all reports.

BRUNK'S COMEDIANS TO RETURN HERE MONDAY

Brunk's Comedians, the players who kept Vernon show fadom in an up-visit here, are returning to the city under the auspices of the Vernon Fire Department, and will open here next Monday night with "Mile a Minute Mary," a humorous comedy-drama, as the feature.

Vernon show-goers who attended the performances of the comedians during the August engagement, remember the work of Sam Bright and Miss Tillie Tutt. Bright as the red-headed Toby, and Miss Tutt as the ignorant country girl, who often used the wrong word, never failed to bring a roar of applause from the audience. Although the company has completely changed the program since visiting Vernon, Bright and Miss Tutt are still being featured, and it is, therefore, safe to predict that the show will be a scream.

"Mile a Minute Mary," the opening play, is advertised as a sensation of the season—a play full of fun and love, and is said to be more amusing than any, the players, staged during their former visit here.

SOUTHWEST GETS LIQUOR FROM BORDERS AND STILL

Dallas, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Home brewers in the cities, corn whiskey distillers in the timber lands of East Texas, and a liquid trickle across the Texas-Louisiana boundary from the wet spots of New Orleans, are at present the chief sources of hard liquor for Texans.

The Mexican border and the gulf coast have become negligible factors in the forbidden industry, say enforcement officials of three arms of the Federal service fighting the prohibition battle in this part of the world.

Most of the liquor entering the state now is coming overland from New Orleans, the fairly effective coast and border blockade shutting off the supply from Mexico and the gulf. Tiquilla, the Mexican drink, in late months has increased from $1 a gallon to $12 at San Antonio, indicating a scarcity in that quarter.

Since the prohibition raids in New Orleans last August, however, the supply from this source again has diminished, the prices of New Orleans whiskey doubling in this state. Before the raids New Orleans whiskey sold at $6 a quart in half case lots. Today the price is about $12 a quart.

The sale of Jamaica Ginger, or "Jake" as the trade calls it, is reported to have increased enormously in Northwest Texas lately, and this is interpreted by enforcement officials as a sign that real liquor is scarce. The consumption of "Jake," which is tincture of ginger and about 96 per cent alcohol, has increased 10 fold since prohibition became a law. Officials report that before prohibition a gallon would have lasted Fort Worth a month. These officials have no control over the sale of this article.

Frank Cole, assistant state prohibition administrator, said the East Texas woods "are full of stills," operated by farmers principally for home consumption. They work almost unmoistened because the swampy country makes it difficult to locate them.

Liquor truck drivers are paid $75 a round trip from San Antonio to New Orleans, the trip taking a week. The run runners on the coast apparently have never recovered from the seizure of three boats in 1923 in which they lost upwards of $1,000,000. When successful in eluding the guard, the runners can sell the stuff for $25 to $30 a case over the ship's side.

SIXTY LOVE LETTERS FROM NEGRESS BRIDE VANISH

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Sixty love letters to wealthy young Leonard Kip Rhinelander from his negress bride have vanished.

Carefully guarded as evidence in his annulment suit, they have gone from possession of his counsel. When Rhinelander testified yesterday in his own behalf, six out of 426 letters in the possession of his attorney were introduced. Isaac N. Mills, chief counsel, called for more letters and Leon R. Jacobs, associate counsel, fumbled nervously through a stack of brown envelopes on a table looking for them.

"They're gone," he whispered with an ejaculation. "They were right here before the last recess and now they're gone. They haven't been out of my hands for a year except when they were in a vault, and now I leave them for a minute and come back and find them gone!"

JAPAN PREPARES ITS NAVY FOR EMERGENCY

London, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Anticipating a coup by Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general" in Peking, says the Evening News Tokyo correspondent, the Japanese cabinet was called in extraordinary session today to consider the protection of Japanese lives and property in the Chinese capital.

It is reported, the correspondent adds, that the navy is prepared for any emergency, with fast cruisers ready to move at a moment's notice.

NON-SKIDDING PARAFFIN WILL INSURE BEAUTY

Paris, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Non-skidding paraffin is the latest done which Paris beauty doctors are holding out to those with old faces who desire to be made young looking. Many of the faces rejuvenated years ago by injecting paraffin under the skin to fill up hollows and wrinkles have assumed their old-time look because the paraffin slipped.

One notable case was the husband of a well-known actress. The wife insisted that he should have his face re-shaped so that she would not be forced to get a divorce from him. She said he looked too old when she appeared in public with him. She herself had been worked back into a seemingly young girl under the skillful methods of the beauty doctors. The husband underwent the necessary treatment, but the paraffin used to take out the seams and furrows of his face melted and ran downward, puffing out his cheeks and jaws.

As the man was well-known in Paris his case was a great tragedy for the "face lifters." The demand for the paraffin treatment became almost nil and investigators went to work to discover a non-skid way. This they now affirm they have found.
